Tikit Email Signature Manager

The Tikit Email Signature Manager, part of Tikit House Style manager, is an enterprise solution which enables Marketing and IT departments to control the format and branding of Outlook emails, including management of the signature block.

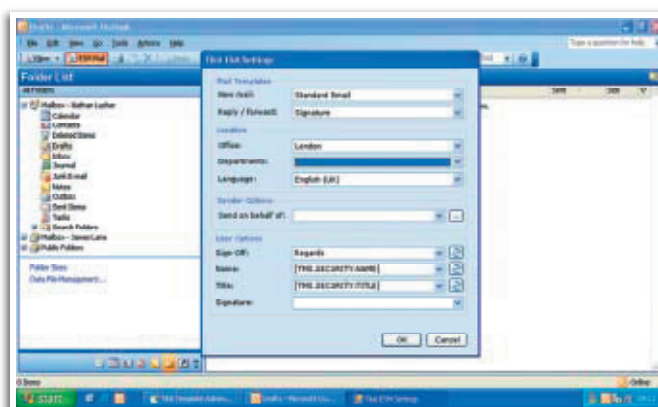

What is Tikit Email Signature Manager?

This product is an administrative tool which:

- Manages the email signature block by extracting user information from Active Directory, ESM and, subject to bespoke development, other data sources
- Applies a consistent 'look and feel' to all outgoing Outlook emails, whilst offering enough flexibility to cater for different departmental requirements
- Allows straplines and images to be added to emails to support current campaigns, events and promotions
- Makes it simple to manage changes to core information such as logos and office locations, and quickly publish the updated information to end users
- Allows default settings to be defined for new, reply and forwarded emails should there be a requirement for them to be treated differently
- Completes the correct signature block when an email is being sent on behalf of a colleague, subject to security settings

A range of default settings can be centrally configured in the Administrator tool

End users are able to select their email settings from the centrally configured options
